Town of Paradise to Host Vigil Sunday, November 18

Community gathering to remember those who we have lost, celebrate community heroes, and support neighbors in need

Chico, Calif – The Town of Paradise is strong and resilient. We are currently in the midst of the worst disaster our town has ever experienced. As we band together, the best of us is coming out - our resilience, strength and downright grit; our kindness, decency and generosity; and above all, our essential humanity.

Together, we will survive, we will rise and we will recover. Town of Paradise residents are invited to join a vigil Sunday afternoon to honor the lives we have lost and mourn the tragedy our community has experienced.

The observance will be drop-in hours, giving residents the chance to quietly reflect, bring photos or mementos of lost friends, family and pets and talk with counselors and mental health experts or sit quietly and pray. There will be a short candlelight vigil the first 10 minutes of each hour (4:10, 5:10, 6:10 pm).

While media is free to attend the vigil, there will be a mandatory media staging area outside of the vigil room to respect the privacy of grieving residents. Media will have a coordinated, timed walkthrough of the memorial area at the end of the timeframe.

While there will be tough days ahead, there is absolutely no question that we'll get through this. We're rebuilding together because we are Paradise and we are Paradise Strong.

Multiple Agencies Act to Prepare for Potential Post-Fire Floods and Debris Flows

National Weather Service issued Flash Flood Watch for Butte County Camp Fire November 21-23

Multiple state, regional, and local agencies are preparing for the potential impacts of storm weather in wildfire-impacted areas within Butte County and want to ensure community members are also prepared.

The National Weather Service has issued a Flash Flood Watch in effect from Wednesday afternoon through Friday morning for the Camp Fire in Butte County. Rainfall over the burn areas is possible at times.

Properties impacted by the wildfires, and downstream of those areas, are at risk for flash flooding, mudflows and debris flows during periods of intense rainfall. Wildfires can alter the terrain and soil conditions reducing the capacity for the ground to absorb water creating conditions for these type of hazards. In addition, creeks and streams within burned watersheds have elevated risk of flooding, mud, and debris flows due to increased rain runoff and potential for sediment to fill channels and block culverts.

Road maintenance crews from Butte County and the Town of Paradise – in partnership with the Governor's Office of Emergency Services, California Department of Water Resources, California Department of Transportation, and California Conservation Corps – are all working collaboratively to assess and reduce the risk of flooding and flow of ash from hardscape areas.

The mutual goal of this effort is to protect human life and critical infrastructure (bridges, roads, culverts, and flood protection facilities), wildlife, and the natural environment including streams and waterways. Efforts include:

- Cleaning and checking culverts
- Installing straw wattles and other best management practices around burn scar areas with high concentrations of ash within the Town of Paradise to prevent debris from entering waterways
- Preparing crews to monitor areas of potential risks during the weather event to keep storms drains clear of sediment and debris

The National Weather Service Flash Flood Watch also advised that those traveling along portions of Highway 70 and the Skyway in Butte County should be alert for possible road problems due to flooding, rock, and debris flows. Residents in Butte County who have repopulated areas within the burn scar, or those who are downstream of that area, are reminded to remain vigilant and follow these steps:

- Sign up for Emergency Mass Notifications – Visit Buttecounty.net/MassNotification to receive urgent alerts via phone call, text message or email.
- Be aware of your risk – Pay attention to weather forecasts and those in low-lying areas should remain aware of your surroundings at all times. Listen to local authorities.
- Be prepared – Prepare an evacuation plan. Always have an emergency evacuation kit ready and be prepared to evacuate early. Tips are available at www.ready.gov.
- Take action – Don't wait to evacuate if flooding or a mud flow appears imminent. Don't walk or drive through flood waters.

For more information on current weather updates, visit the National Weather Service at weather.gov.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*November 21, 2018*HEALTH OFFICER ISSUES HAZARD ADVISORY WARNING AGAINST HABITATION OF DESTROYED PROPERTY

BUTTE COUNTY, Calif. – Dr. Andy Miller, Butte County Health Officer, has issued a hazard advisory strongly suggesting no habitation of destroyed property until property is declared clear of hazardous waste and structural ash and debris by Butte County Environmental Health. There is evidence from recent fires in California that homes and property destroyed by fire contain high and concerning levels of heavy metals, lead, mercury, dioxin, arsenic, and other carcinogens. Some property may have the presence of radio-active materials. Exposure to hazardous substances may lead to acute and chronic health effects, and may cause long-term public health and environmental impacts.

As areas affected by the fire with destroyed homes and property are opened to residents, residents will have limited access to visit property to collect recognizable belongings and mementoes that may have survived the fire. Residents should review the Health and Safety Precaution for Re-entry packet, which will be distributed at controlled re-entry checkpoints.

The County is working with State and Federal partners who will assess each property for hazardous waste and remove those materials from each property. This process will take time. There is no estimate as to how long it will take to assess and remove hazardous materials from each property at this time. After the property has been cleared of hazardous waste, the property owner can sign-up for a State debris removal program at no cost to the property owner.

Aerial Imagery Maps of Some Burn Areas in Town of Paradise Now Available

Detailed aerial imagery maps of damaged properties in most of the burn areas in the Town of Paradise are now available to view at www.ButteCountyRecovers.org/Maps.

Video surveys and 360 degree drone panoramas of all major roads in the Town of Paradise can also be accessed on this webpage.

The imagery was captured by a multiagency task force of public safety drone teams at the request of the Butte County Sheriff's Office. The agencies involved were authorized to fly in wildfire conditions under an emergency waiver from the Federal Aviation Administration.

The purpose of this imagery is to provide valuable information to the search and recovery teams on the ground, multiple agencies coordinating response, and to the residents of the community impacted by the Camp Fire. While the teams tried to capture imagery for most property damage in the Town of Paradise burn areas, the map is not comprehensive.

Preparedness for Rain After Wildfires

In preparation for anticipated rain this winter, people who live in burned areas, or downhill of burned areas, should be aware of increased risks for:

- Flash Flooding: Normally, rainfall is absorbed by vegetation and soils, reducing runoff. However, wildfires remove vegetation and may leave soil unable to absorb water, creating flash flood conditions. Flood risk remains significantly higher until vegetation is restored—up to 5 years after a wildfire.
- Mud and Debris Flows: Debris and ash, along with other sediments, can be picked up in flood waters and form mud and debris flows.

Here are some things property owners in burned areas, or downstream of burned areas, can do to prevent or report flooding or debris issues:

- Install straw wattles to prevent debris, ash and erosion from flowing into waterways.
- If you see something (flooding, mud and debris flows), say something – call 911
- Monitor your surroundings, and have an emergency plan in place.
- Stay informed: Listen to local radio stations, and sign up for CodeRed alerts. Make sure that the emergency alerts on your cell phone are activated (on smart phones, go to "Notifications" and make sure the Emergency Alerts notification is turned on).
- Sand Bags are available in the Paradise Town Hall Parking Lot, 5555 Skyway.

The Town of Paradise is preparing for the potential impacts of the recent wildfires on urban and rural communities. The Town's Public Works Department is working in conjunction with partnering agencies are taking action to protect private property and critical infrastructure with the following actions:

- Town of Paradise Public Works are cleaning and checking storm drains, and installing straw wattles and sandbags to prevent debris from entering storm drains.
- In rural areas, the California Conservation Corps is checking and installing debris-capture devices in culverts and ditches along rural roadways.

- The Paradise Recreation and Parks District are assessing their properties within the burned areas for hazardous conditions including downed and damaged trees and areas where erosion may affect streams and watersheds.
